

Greetings Shaklee Family and Friends,

December 2, 2006

It's that season again when goodness abounds and giving is at the top of the list. We are "other" focused and concentrating on creating health and happiness for others. Toward that end, I would like to tell you how much you all are appreciated both as friends and as business partners. It's unfortunate that I don't remember to tell you that more often.

However, showing appreciation by saying THANK YOU just isn't enough. I would like to demonstrate my appreciation by giving back. It would be too laborious for me to mail each of you a present and it would stretch my imagination to think what the best gift would be. So in an effort to keep it simple, what I would like to offer you is the opportunity to take an additional 10% off of any size order placed either thru me or the company (on line or by phone) during the week of December 10 thru December 18, 2006. I will send you a check for the extra 10% savings when I write bonuses in January. Or if you need it before then, all you need to do is ask.

Remember that Shaklee presents are deductible up to $25 per person per year as an advertising expense - even when given to relatives. And they don't have to be dusted, or stored and are guaranteed to improve the recipients' quality of life.

I hope that your Holidays are family and fun filled and that they bring you fulfillment.

Blessings,
